October 16, 2017

10 a.m.-1:30 p.m.

Shepherd University

Robert C. Byrd Center for Congressional History and Education

213 North King Street
Shepherdstown, WV 25443

Featuring Remarks by

Senator Joe Manchin (D-W.Va.)

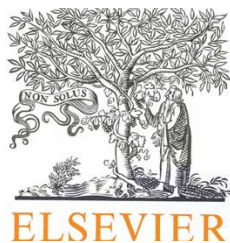

10:05 a.m.

Senator Shelley Moore Capito (R-W.Va.)

10:35 a.m.

The event, which will be livestreamed, will explore the current and future roles of innovation and research as catalysts to economic growth in West Virginia and as solutions to major health threats including the opioid epidemic.

Senator Joe Manchin (D-W.Va.) and Senator Shelley Moore Capito (R-W.Va.) are scheduled to deliver remarks, and leaders from government, industry, academia, and scientific societies will be among the panelists for a discussion on the social, economic, and health impact of public and private sector research and technology. Research!America's president and CEO Mary Woolley will release results of a new survey of West Virginians on medical and health research. Findings will be discussed during the program.
